AIX: Gas

Developing partnerships along the gas value chain

23 June & 18 November 2021, RSA House, London & Online

Taking place in two parts, the 7th annual AIX: Gas meeting returns to London alongside on-screen participants around the world.

The meeting continues to bring together the diverse perspectives of government, regulators, upstream operators, investors, power developers and other stakeholders to examine the continent's gas market – from upstream exploration and development, infrastructure and storage, to power generation, trading and financing.

With travel still curtailed by the pandemic, the hybrid event will be held online for delegates unable to be at RSA House in person.

AIX: Gas is co-organised by Cross-border Information (Cbi), and Cbi's African Energy, a consultancy that has been involved at the heart of the debate surrounding the development of the energy sector in Africa for more than 20 years.

AIX: Gas is held under the Chatham House Rule and structured round panel led discussions to facilitate open discussion.

13h45 to 15h15 (BST)

Conceptualising the industry's future shape

With fossil fuel markets under ever greater pressure from shifting strategies and projects searching for increasingly elusive funding as stakeholders follow a climate change agenda more rigorously, AIX: Gas will examine the relevance of gas to African economies, their domestic markets and export potential.

- An overview of Africa's gas market by African Energy
- What are the potentials for driving investment and loans into gas sector projects?
- Official financiers' views on the prospects for securing funds. Is it off the agenda totally, or can the right deal open up financing?
- How can upstream players avoid being left with stranded assets?
- Gas-to-power (GTP) options.
- The potential and limits of transportation and other use.
- Trucking gas, LPG for cooking - is small-scale gas the future?
- CCS and other 'clean' fossil solutions - can they work?
- Using gas to produce hydrogen's blue or brown version, is this really a future option for African economies?
- Does Egypt supply a model for export-led developments?
- Has gas really got a long-term role as the transition fuel?

AIX: Gas will be held as a physical and virtual meeting. There will be a professional tech team at RSA House managing this hybrid model to ensure a smooth digital process and to bring out the best in our speakers.

All participants, including speakers, can choose whether to participate in-person or join the meeting virtually.

INTERACTIVE PANELS – Ask questions and share ideas with the AIX community during interactive panels with live chat and polling.

CHAT & NETWORK – Use our digital platform to catch up with old friends with 1-to-1 video calls and connect with the contacts you want to meet.

LIVE OR ON-DEMAND – Watch everything live or pick the time that suits you. Every panel session is recorded so you can catch up later.

Opportunities and challenges investing in south-eastern Africa

A regional focus with lessons for all stakeholders operating in and around the industry.

- South Africa: what opportunities do Ramaphosa administration's reform commitments offer to industry investors.
- Southern Mozambique: regional openings led by GTP plays
- Rovuma Basin: a social crisis zone militarised. What are the impacts and risks of the insurgency for gas and LNG project timelines and investment.
- Tanzania: Can years of conflict with operators and a stagnant offshore be overcome by the change at the top?
- GTP across the region.

Why RSA House?

RSA House was chosen to host the AIX meetings because of its excellent conference facilities, break out spaces and private meeting rooms, packaged together in a venue that provides a unique slice of London's history.

Why Online?

Our virtual and hybrid events platform has opened up the AIX meetings to a wider audience and allows the AIX community to chat and interact before and during the conference and to watch the panels and roundtable discussions either live or on demand.

Our unique perspective

AIX: Gas is held under the Chatham House Rule and structured around panel-led sessions with a limited audience to preserve the networking environment.

Participants will benefit from exclusive analysis based on African Energy Live Data - our unique platform that combines a range of analytics tools with project level detail of more than 6,500 power plants across the continent.
